REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

Palmetto State E-cademy, a public charter virtual high school opened in 2008. Palmetto State E-cademy served students in grades 9-12. Since its founding, the mission of the school has not changed: "Provide South Carolina youth an opportunity to realize their potential in a superior online learning environment."

Our school's successes are many. Our Board of Directors and Executive Director, administration, faculty, staff, parents, and our students are continually searching for meaningful opportunities to improve upon our model of providing a world class education tailored to each student's personal schedule, ability level, and pace of learning. Our curriculum is robust, interactive, and features over 80 traditional and Advanced Placement offerings. Our students score as well or better on state and national assessments as their peers in brick-and-mortar schools. Likewise, students may choose from an array of extracurricular offerings with students within the borders of South Carolina and outside the state within a secure virtual and interactive environment called i-Quad. The graduating class of 2010 boasted eighteen graduates representing an appointment to the Governor's School for the Arts and acceptances into colleges and universities in state and out-of-state.

A key factor in our school's successes stems from the frequency of parent and student outreach provided by committed, dedicated, and passionate professionals from the ranks of our administration, faculty, and staff. Our teachers, all Highly Qualified, are subject area experts, technologically proficient, and our core instructors teach fulltime for Palmetto State E-cademy. Professional development for our faculty and staff is a first consideration for teaching excellence.

Our administration, faculty, and staff know that in order to sustain an exemplary virtual public charter school, team and relationship building must be ongoing and sincere. Our faculty, staff, and leadership teams look to parents and students for direction and improvement. We face each new school year with confidence and enthusiasm and an unwavering commitment to do what is best for our students.
